Climate Change

Rain Fall

By: Caden

Rain is like pain it flows through your umbrella remember when the snow was and you played in it as hard as you could you should go to the beach then you reach for a drink and the drink is cold rain is cold rain and pain are the same to me and your so go plot a time when it's hot so we can go to the beach and have fun.

Climate change

By: Kasya

Climate change.

It is a topic we all know.

Something that is destroying the earth as we speak.

It's on its peak.

The earth was all great then humans filled it with hate and started to make it deteriorate.

We are slowly trying to make a change and flip the page.

Climate Change Poem

By: Alison

Carbon emissions are killing the earth
Little do we know this could end human civilization
If we keep polluting the environment the animals will die
Methane can cause the earth to overheat and die
Are we going to sit back and watch this happen?
The volcanic ashes are trapping heat in the air
Even though it seems to late we can still help the planet!

Can't we stop this catastrophic event?
Help the planet or we'll all die
Animals are losing their homes and going extinct
Not as though it's too much to ask Greenhouse gases could end the world
Every day more and more animals are dying do to garbage!

The Voices To Be Heard

By Valencia

In a world filled of life
Our very existence faces extinction, plagued with strife
We've watch our planet fade to gray
Our way of living, being lead astray
What are we do to, our atmosphere distressed with greenhouse gases
We know this it as time passes.

The ice caps are melting, temperatures rising like never before "This needs to change," our governments swore But then what are we doing to stop this emergency?
Do we not understand the immediate urgency?
We look around, noticing the details that are planet may die
But do we choose to ignore it, ignoring Earth's helpless cry?

No, this has to stop here and now!
Simply letting our extinction happen is something we mustn't allow We've come together before, time to do it again
How selfish are we to leave it to the next gen?
So what will us humans in the meantime do?
Our voices must be heard, the choice is up to you.

Climate Poem

By:Emerson

Oh climate, Oh climate

In a world of chaos

Pollution and littering

Feels like the world getting teared off.

When it's hot it feels the the ground getting hot

When it's cool it feels like were jumping and swimming in a pool.

Climate is scary,

Like a witch fairy

And with gases the ruin the world our bodies cannot resist the badness of the world and that sometimes we hurl

Oh climate, Oh Climate you are so cruel!

Poem
By: Oliver

Global Warming.
Your Real.
This is all very surreal.
In this place and time
People still bicker.

People say your not real.
Which is weird.
It has always been so clear.
These people.
Hiding under their steeple
Making you feel crazy
When in reality, in their mind it too hazy.

These guys are uneducated
They go without medication
They need to go back to pre school
These people are all fools!

Our Next Earth

By : Alaa

Climate change is in fact real

So let's start dealing with it before it becomes reality

The Earth is asking for help

Quick, Let's give it assistance

Before this becomes inefficient

Pollution is the problem

Greenhouse Gases also affect our environment

So let's work together to save our planet.

CLIMATE CHANGE

by: Ayan

Climate change makes winter hotter and the summer more hotter and the greenhouse gases make the world more hotter.

Poem of bad things going on earth

By Peyton

Volcanoes erupts

Pollution interrupts

The O-zone layer is crumbling

The earth's layers are rumbling

Greenhouse gasses emit heat

And the governments need to get a beat

Fog is all around the place

Making people not see in this case

Climate change was good in the 1900's

But that was a long time away

The heat is rising

And the cold is dying

Fire is spreading all over

Like the luck is gone from a 4 leaf clover

Trees are being cut down

And mudslides come in from all around

Tsunamis destroy anything in their way

And someone has to pay

Glaciers are melting

And no one has been helping

My Poem on Climate Change

By: Jaxson

Climate change is not funny,
All people care about is money,
From digging up oil,
We need more soil,
Let's work as a team,
And easy it shall seem,
Let's keep our world clean,
Just for you and me.

A poem about stuff that will kill us.
By: Addison

Greenhouse gasses co2 it may not look so bad but it's not good for you.

Heat volcanos all of these things if it gets to bad you are going to heaven on wings.

If you wanna learn more it is no chore.

Help us save the planet get greenhouse gasses out and ban it!

So now you know about all these things and what it brings

People are dropping trash and driving cars when I'm standing hear rapping bars!

So clean up your trash you dirty fool it would be like you swimming in a pool filled with dirty water!

That's how fish feel! And I hope you understand now!

Climate change

By: Tyson

The weather patterns are changing
The world is getting hotter and hotter
The factories are polluting us
The glacier are melting by the days
We need to stop global warming.

Climate change

By: inaya

The worlds getting warmer, Sea levels rising,
it's no longer calmer,
o-zone layer is barely surviving,

The sky is bruised with smoke and flame the air no longer speaks our name the trees blackened, like ghosts in rows where once the wind through green would blow the seas have swallowed towns in sleep their secrets buried dark and deep the sun now scorches, fierce and mad its warmth once kind, now cruel and sad the animals have fled or died the government lied, they said everything is fine, they sighed the polar bear, the honeybee now echoes of what it used to be we paved and burned, drilled and bled we fed the fire, ignoring the dread the warnings came like whispered rain but comfort dulled the edge of pain.

now the earth, betrayed, responds with cracking cuts and choking ponds what's left are shadows, dust and flames those who wish we'd played another game

By: Sheilbe

Oh, climate change,
What you do to the planet is such a shame,
Yet we are the one to blame for this terrible change.

Even though we built with smoke, lit up the sky, and disregarded the planets warning cry,
The Earth is still in quite pain.

It continues to turn, despite,
Drenched in rain, and sun,
We have the power to make that change,
Our future is shaped by what we do

Poem

By: Abigail

Sun rays strike,
that causes melting ice,
From digging up oil,
We need some more soil,
All people care about is money,
It's very very sunny,
Let's work on it and be a team,
It's as easy as it seems,
That's climate change for you,
You look so blue.

Global warming poem

By: James

Volcanos erupt to ash in the air
This is a real big problem to I have to declare Volcanoes are not good for society
They make the air polluted
The water is now diluted
Trump doesn't know what he's talking about He's a little bum
Now excuse me well I go have some fun in the sun
I'm back now it's winter
Because of global warming it's really hot It's like your cooking something in a pot
Soup all the chickens in the chicken coop are gone
Ding dong it's global warming at your door
It's heat galore
All the penguins are screaming
The water is steaming
Ice is a gleaming

Now see you later

Disastrous

By: Nayshin

Is Climate Change Real?
I don't know how to feel
Some people say the glaciers are melting
Which I think to be true.

They say the marine life is dying
But are they actually lying?
Is the coral turning white?
Can we make this right?

Next Generation

By: Ameliah

The world is getting warmer,
As it is no longer colder.
Volcanoes erupt,
And pollution interrupts.
Our world is coming to an end.
And life is starting to bend.
So we must face it,
And we must admit.
The government will shout his declaration,
So we can save our next generation.
